Death Calls But Boy, 3, Smiles

JOHN MCMAHON

Rests in Hospital as End Nears

Doctors See No Hope of Saving Cambridge Child

Happy and smiling, yet doomed to die within six months. That's three-year-old John McMahon of Loper street, Cambridge.

A month ago he was toddling around his home with his six brothers and sisters, now he is suffering a lingering illness at the Cambridge City Hospital.

Doctors at the hospital state that they are pessimistic to save the little boy. He is afflicted with one of the rarest fatal diseases known to medical science, acute lymphatic leukemia. Briefly, this is an overabundance of white cells in the blood stream. This results in crowding out the "normal" red cells. A normal boy his age has 40 per cent of these cells, while John has 86 per cent.

FAMILY IN WANT
He was brought to the hospital a week ago by his widowed mother, Mrs. Mary McMahon. The family of seven children and the mother are in dire straits. They were left penniless at the death of the father and are now forced to depend on friends.

The boy was dying when he arrived at the hospital. An immediate blood transfusion saved his life.

"The average length of existence for persons who become thus afflicted is four months," the doctor said today.

"We can be of no help to this child. There is no hope of his living more than six months. Where the normal person has approximately 4000 white cells, this boy has about 100,000. This is almost 10 times more than normal."

PROFUSE BLEEDING
His affliction has resulted in profuse bleeding. For an apparent reason blood will start flowing from his nose. And where the normal person will bleed for an average of five minutes, the boy will bleed for 15.

"This is explained," says Dr. Ernest Vogel, "by the scarcity of platelets in the bloodstream of the child. These are the cells which function as to form a blood clot. Where the normal person has 250,000 of these platelets in his system, John has only 10,000. And where the normal clot forms in three minutes, it takes him one and one-half minutes in the McMahon child."

Previous to his being stricken a week ago, the McMahon boy had been a healthy child. Doctors here

TAXI DRIVER TAKES YOUTH TO HOSPITAL

Victim of a severe beating at the hands of unidentified assailants. Robert Martin, 21-year-old Harvard Law School senior, was found unconscious today in Tremont street, opposite Hollis street.

The young man, son of Professor Martin C. Campbell of the law school, was suffering from a possible fracture of the skull, concussion of the brain, multiple contusions and abrasions of face and head.

Two hours after he had been taken to Boston City Hospital and given emergency treatment by Dr. Maurice O'Connell, young Campbell was revived enough to be taken to his home at 433 Mt. Auburn street, Waterville, to be treated by family physician.

"I don't know what happened to me. I wasn't robbed, but it's all a blur."

TAKEN TO HOME
The youth said he had not been drinking and did not see the assailants. There was no trace of alcohol about the victim, he said.

Under orders from Professor Campbell, an ambulance removed the young man from City Hospital to his home at 433 Mt. Auburn street, Waterville, to be treated by family physician.

Young Campbell was taken to the hospital shortly before 4:30 p. m. by Ernest Brown, a taxi driver who lives in Chagrin place, South Boston.

Dyson notified police of Division 4 at the same time. He said he was driving along Tremont street when he saw the student lying near the edge of the sidewalk, picked him up and carried him to the hospital when he witnessed his condition.

IN EVENING DRESS
Young Campbell was wearing evening dress. His mother said that he had left home early last evening to attend a dinner of some Harvard friends.

Mrs. Campbell said that she did not know the man who carried the youth, the dinner was held at the home of a friend of the family, Division 4, which investigated the mysterious attack, reported that the affair had not been heard of at a hotel near where Campbell was found.

Campbell graduated from Harvard University last year. He was active in student affairs at the time of the attack. He was a member of the Harvard golf and squash teams.

Chrysler Seeks Arrest of 6000

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Detroit, March 18.—The Chrysler Corporation has directed its attorneys to demand the arrest of the 6000 all-day strikers who are holding possession of the company's eight plants in defiance to a court injunction.

B. E. Hutchinson, vice-president of the corporation, made the statement today shortly after he returned from New York, where he conferred with Walter P. Chrysler, president and chairman of the board.

The "deadline" for the strikers to vacate expired at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

ASK CONGRESS' AID
At the same time the Detroit board of commerce appealed to Michigan members of Congress to put an end to the all-day strike.

"Detroit is swarming with imported organizers, agitators and labor racketeers," Harvey Campbell, Chrysler spokesman, said.

"We are not going to let the Chrysler Corporation be used as a tool for the Communist Party," he said.

The Holy Father, in a vigorous attack on the forces he fought against the recent strike in Italy, declared only the Catholic Church can effectively oppose what he termed the "savagery of the anti-fascist campaign which strikes morality to the very ground."

ARCH BISHOP'S WEAPON
He devoted several paragraphs to denouncing how the Catholic religion in the family and the state was the best equipped agent to combat Communism, which, he said, "is the enemy of God."

"Under the eye of God," he said, "the Church will not permit itself to be used as a tool for the Communist Party."

Oath Law Victory Seen by Defenders
Backed by patriotic and civic organizations throughout the country, defenders of the teaching of the oath law victory in their grasp as the bill advocating repeal seemed a final vote in the House.

Despite confidence that the bill will not be passed by the engrossed former Representative Thomas F. Ryan, the House voted today to pass the bill by a 211-191 vote.

At that time 111 votes were required for repeal to put the oath law with eight members either absent or not counted.

It is known that a majority of those members favor the statute.

In addition, it was learned on good authority that the House majority who voted for the bill on Tuesday are now ready to reverse their previous stand.

WALL CASE REOPENED IN LONDON

London, March 18 (INS)—The divorce case of Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson against Ernest Aldrich Simpson will be reopened in the London divorce court tomorrow, it was learned today.

An application by the King's proctor "for directions" in the case will be heard by the president of the divorce court, Sir Boyd Merrett.

Since that time, there have been repeated reports alleging that Mrs. Simpson was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Mrs. Simpson was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in the case of her husband, a former officer in the Coldstream Guards, at London.

MANY AFFAIRS MADE
Reports of Mrs. Simpson for France and abdication of King Edward VIII from the throne of England followed granting of this decree.

One such appeal was said to have been made by a firm of London solicitors acting in behalf of an unidentified Londoner. This appeal, however, was dropped.

HEARING TOMORROW
Although the directions the King's proctor will remain a closely guarded secret, legal circles interpreted reopening of the case as indicating someone else may be seeking to intervene in the case.

In this connection, it was pointed out the King's proctor may be

In broad daylight, a man attempted to kidnap a 13-year-old Cambridge boy near the spring-estate home today.

The boy, Thomas Dickson, 13, of 80 Rimmell street, Cambridge, fought his assailant off. He told police the would-be kidnaper was a negro.

The boy was returning from a football game when accosted by the negro who ordered him into a blue car in which he was driving. He said he was a policeman and wanted to bring him to the station for questioning, the boy said.

When the boy refused to get into the car he grabbed him and tried to force him in. The boy battled at the side of the car finally fighting him off.

After police heard the boy's story they took him to a cruising car in the hope of finding the man in the car.

It seems that some of our statesmen in Washington are slightly heated up over the "Roosevelt for King" movement of the Yales.

They have been cheering an editorial in the Daily Pennsylvanian, student newspaper of the University of Pennsylvania (Yale 7, Penn 0) which we gave Senator Black's statement to a Princeton. A Princeton, as you perhaps know, has no reason to love a Yale. He said he would take the statement home and study it before making any comment. In the meantime, we made inquiry in other quarters about the Yales' "Roosevelt for King" movement, and we have about come to the conclusion that it was largely a misunderstanding.

Water on Hopes
It seems that a bunch of the Yales were whooping it up one night not long ago, continuing the quite justifiable celebration of the success of their 1936 football team.

This celebration began last November. It will continue whenever good Yales get together, until their 1937 team runs into the Harvard's next Fall.

Far be it from us to chuck ice water on warm hopes, but we have been doing our darning of next season's games early. We find that the Harvard's are a lead pipe chin to massuro the Yales by three touchdowns this year.

Anyway, getting back to our beginning, one of the speakers of the evening called attention to the fact that the success of the Yales' 1936 team was achieved under the kindly auspices of a Democratic national administration, headed by Mr. Roosevelt.

The speakers pointed out that under no other administration in history had a Lawrence Kelley come to the White House, and we have heard of the Yales' 1936 team.

Ex-Sen. Bingham Sued for Divorce
Mass. March 15.—Miss Abigail Bingham is suing William Bingham for divorce in the Superior Court in Boston. The divorce was granted in 1932. The divorce was granted in 1932. The divorce was granted in 1932.

Burglars Steal Safe, 9 Pistols
Burglars broke into the office of the William F. Barry Trust Company, at 400 South Street, on Monday night, and stole a safe, nine pistols, and a large amount of cash.

Interruption
The speaker suggested that in the interests of continued Yale success, it behooved all loyal Yales to endeavor to perpetuate in office the administration that has been so nice to them. At this moment, he was interrupted by cries of "bore-bore."

Now what the speaker meant to convey, of course, was that the Yales should perpetuate the democracy in office, not necessarily Mr. Roosevelt.

As a matter of fact, we understand that the speaker was just getting around to putting in a nice plug for ex-Governor Max Gardner, of North Carolina, for 1940, when he was interrupted again by "bore-bore." The confusion became so great that he could not continue.

His suggestion was utterly misinterpreted by the young Yales. In an excess of enthusiasm, they organized the "Roosevelt for King" movement, thinking that the suggestion of Mr. Roosevelt would be the perpetuating of the administration that the speaker suggested.

They thought it would get another Lawrence Kelley for the Yales. You must have read of Lawrence Kelley. He was the Yale's celebrated laughing end. Any college would agree to a king if it meant a Lawrence Kelley.

Surprised, Hurt

Unfortunately, the impression got abroad that the Yales were trying to kid some body. That they were being disrespectful to our nation's chief. Some of the Yales were a little surprised, and hurt. We had a letter from one who said:

"If we had been trying to be disrespectful we would have attended the last dinner in Washington given by the White House Correspondents Association and of which a press association reported:

"President Roosevelt was guest of honor, and chief butt of burlesque movies and skit-poking fun at his New Deal, its politics, its controversies, and its personalities tonight."

And there was another reaction, too.

Some persons not only thought the Yales were quite serious, but were indignant at their choice of a candidate. A group of Hollywood, California, citizens expressed the opinion that if this country was going to have a king, it ought to be Cecil De Mille, the movie director.

Logical Choice

A committee of Washington, D. C., men met in secret and passed a resolution that George Preston Marshall was the logical choice for king, because he can out-laugh anybody else in the land.

Meanwhile, other colleges all over the country were organizing clubs similar to that of the Yales, and this made the Yales pretty sure. The other colleges already have good end material.

We think Dr. Joseph M. Gray, chancellor of American University, has the best idea of the thing when he says:

"The boys will be thinking of something else tomorrow."

P. S. We have just heard from the Princeton on Senator Black's statement.

"Look," the Princeton said. "The speaker is all wrong. There is no Yale alive who can spell connection without looking it up."

LA GUARDIA MAY BE GAGGED BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, March 15 (INS).—President Roosevelt is prepared to intervene in the "Battle of Epithets" between Mayor Fiorella LaGuardia and the German official press of the New York mayor fails to halt his criticism of Chancellor Adolf Hitler.

This was reported in state department circles today in the wake of a second anti-Nazi protest by Germany over LaGuardia's latest statements.

"STRAIN" THREATENED
Secretary of State Cordell Hull responded for a second time yesterday after Ambassador Hans Luther protested a renewal of attacks on Hitler by LaGuardia at an anti-Nazi mass meeting in New York Monday night.

Luther told Hull that if such attacks continued they would result in a "serious strain" on the relations between Germany and the United States.

Following Luther's call, Hull, it was learned, had a lengthy telephone conversation with the German ambassador in Washington. Afterward, he said:

"I am personally thankful that all who are participating in the present controversy, which is marked by bitter and unproductive intemperance in this country and in Germany, should reach the conclusion that it would be in the best interests of both countries for them to find other subjects which can be discussed more temperately."

Berlin Papers Score U. S., Recall Lindy Flight

Berlin, March 15 (AP).—German papers registered praise today for the two-week anti-American campaign, with a declaration today in Berlin's Volksbeobachter that:

"Washington should add to the neutrality bill an edict to protect government leaders and institutions of foreign states."

The paper said: "Anti-American agitation has reached the point of war days."

United States Ambassador William E. Dodd was reported by sources close to the foreign office to have taken over the situation with Foreign Minister von Neurath.

LaGuardia was being delivered to Secretary Hull in Washington yesterday.

Schwartz Korps, weekly organ of Hitler's SA guard, the Sturm Stachel, called the United States a "country of democratic liberties in which national, before the nation, under assumed names."

"LaGuardia is promising personal security for Jewish emigrants which he was unable to give to Lindbergh," the weekly said, cartooning the mayor holding a machine gun as a "new statue of liberty."

Bandit Cupid Stages Another Hold-up

Former G-Man Melvin Purvis threw up his hands and without protest permitted D. Cupid, wanted in every state—including the state of matrimony—to rob him of his affections, which were immediately transferred to Miss Janice Jarratt, motion picture actress. They are shown here at a Los Angeles airport where Lawyer Purvis is about to take a plane for San Francisco.

FOIL BANDITS IN SUBWAY HOLDUP

Three bandits "bored an Elevated starter in the Park street subway station today and sought unsuccessfully to break open a safe containing $200.

The holdup was staged while scores of persons waited on the subway platform for cars going toward the North Station.

Benjamin F. Jackson, 50, of 2 Hollis park, North Cambridge, the car starter, was confronted by two men, both armed, who pointed revolvers at him.

They pushed Jackson into the office where a third man, unnamed, was waiting.

With steps of burglar they tied Jackson's arms behind his back and turned his face to the wall, cautioning him to be quiet.

Then the men used the combinations of two safes and for several minutes sought to force the doors open. When they were unable to do this one of them muttered, "Let's get it," and the two fled. One of the safes contained the $200 in collections.

Maybe It Was Air-Minded

New York, March 15 (AP).—Nine police cruisers hunted around an elevated subway station yesterday for a "plane" reported to have crashed. Then officers were forced to road "crane."

When the police got there, a repair crew already was engaged in extricating the crane from a batch of wires.

Boy, 10, Bleeding Slowly to Death

Thick Island, Ill., March 15 (UP).—Two-year-old Billy Wagers is slowly bleeding to death, hospital authorities announced today, from a rare type of blood infection, known as Henle's disease.

Physicians are waging an almost hopeless fight against the progress of the disease, which usually always is fatal, by administering an unusual serum costing about $25 daily to patients.

Leslie Howard says Luckies are "tops" with his throat

"Years ago, as an ambitious young actor, I was impressed how well my throat liked Luckies and how well they suited my idea of a perfect cigarette. That impression still stands. In my recent tour of 'Hamlet,' with its many performances each week and the attendant tax on my throat, I have been convinced anew that this light smoke is both delightful to my taste and the 'top' cigarette for an actor's throat."

Leslie Howard

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Howard verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

GET-RICH-QUICK PARTNER PLAN PROBED HERE

Reports on the Black Bay "partnership" organization which is said to have promised investors profits of from 8 to 25 per cent were turned over to Captain John A. Doherty and Sergeant Daniel Murphy of the attorney-general's staff today.

After scanning through about 15 pages of the voluminous report submitted by the Boston Harbor Business Bureau, Attorney-General Doherty said:

"This far I see nothing criminal."

Never then called his investigation, instructed them to study the report, then interview a Boston public school music teacher who is executive secretary of the association.

At the same time, Director John H. Barkon of the state association announced that he had been investigating the association "for some time" but declined to comment other than to state none of those involved had registered with his "blue sky" division.

Chief allegation of the Boston Harbor Bureau, which stated that a Mr. X did the marketing for the group, was that the association had not been registered.

Kills Three, Calls Hearse, Then Ends Life

Toronto, Wash., March 15.—(AP)—A man, responding to a call for a hearse and carrying a coffin, drove to the home of James Merritt Arthur and found the bodies of his wife and two young daughters.

Evidence indicated that Arthur had killed his wife and daughters, possibly because they had been taken into the home and then registered for the hearse. He then set in a chair in the upstairs living room of his home and calmly shot himself with a .38 Smith & Wesson.

Mrs. Arthur and the girls Mary Ann, 15, and Jane, 8, had been shot in the back of the head and instantly killed.

A note was found requesting that relatives in Chicago, Columbus, Ohio, and Memphis, Tenn., be notified. The note gave no hint as to the motive behind the tragedy.

SELLING IS HELD TODAY'S JOB

Special to Boston Evening American, San Francisco, March 15.—(AP)—J. McCarthy, marketing director of House Industries, yesterday told the San Francisco Advertising Club that the marketing of a business meeting is the most important of selling today's business.

"Speed, efficiency and profit in selling operations can today result only from streamlined and modernized marketing methods," he said.

"Waste in marketing is an enormous factor in the price of the product to the consumer. The old-fashioned methods of selling cannot be used today. The difference between the old way and the new is the absence of wasted effort."

"For executives should worry less with production and more with selling," McCarthy said. "They should become more apt in the concentrated selling methods of streamlined policies."

"Efficient selling instead of shut-out coverage gets results today," he explained.

Son Finds Father Dead in Winthrop

Awakened by the sound of a door closing, William H. Hodgkins, Jr., of Quincy Avenue, Winthrop, went to his father's bedroom in the house today and found the father, William H. Hodgkins, 59, on the floor.

Police were called, and the son, who was pronounced dead, was taken to the Winthrop hospital. The cause of death is being determined.

Belts everybody. It's a Good Day's Sport

Nothing that has developed in baseball in years has provided such a new and unique as the selection of the top ten players in the game to enter the Hall of Fame in the Albert Doubleday Baseball Memorial at Compton, N. Y., where that first baseball diamond.

Doubleday and company are in between fans and baseball as the selection of the ten players can't lose. It's the hall of fame of the present day which shall determine which players shall be selected.

What chance in this roll have Hugh Duffy and Tommy McCarthy, known in the history as "The Heavenly Twins" Willie Keeler, the first of the really scientific players and one who invented most of what we call "inside baseball" Old Hoss Radbourne, Marty Bergen, Pop Anson and Mike Kelly, when the young writers of today never saw these men in action?

New York, March 16 (AP)—The report of a new record of 11.5 inches of precipitation at New York City, which was reported by the National Weather Service, was not confirmed by the city's official weather bureau.

That station's record for February 1944 was 11.4 inches, the bureau said. Still, it is a share for the first time in 100 years.

That American Express Tower City was in the year and in March 1944, the expected 11.5 inches.

When the interest rate and other factors are held at what is desirable when they result from increasing price levels, a paradoxical and unexpected effect is a loss of the profits of exporters. When they receive a higher price for their exports, the domestic inflation rate is higher than the foreign inflation rate, so that the result is, therefore, the buying power of the various groups in the export economy is reduced. Because working as exporters is the most rewarding activity, the representatives of fixed incomes and other sectors. The upward spiral of wages and prices in inflationary periods is thus reinforced by the downward spiral of demand. If such conditions develop, the government should intervene in the public interest by taking such action as is necessary.

N. E. BUSINESS
Feature

By HUGH E. BRADSHAW

The Port of Boston supplies the real feature for reviews of business activity in the New England area this week.

Import and export trade were good, that waterfront facilities were taxed to the utmost, according to Dun & Bradstreet's weekly review of conditions.

The week ended March 14, the latest, when imports arrived, the total value of goods received was $14,000,000. Twenty-two per cent of the corresponding week a year ago. While imports are piled up on the docks, the local market is not so good. The local market is not so good. The local market is not so good.

Because the air conditioning stocks have been rather inactive, the local market is not so good. The local market is not so good. The local market is not so good.

GAY OFFERS:
Wise
COUNSEL TO Leaders

By B. C. FORBES

This column recently quoted a man who said until all reason had been sold to the winds.

This writer commented that it would be wise for the official of the greatest security market in America to refrain scrupulously from publicly proclaiming either his bullishness or his bearishness—unless and until all reason had been thrown to the winds.

Mr. Gay told me that he recalls someone informing him that he was not a bear, but a bull, and the exchange's head had said. But Mr. Gay, in the country, has submitted a statement, which he did not say.

I would appreciate it if you would say to the public that I have said and let me know your opinion.

Having carefully read both articles, I am sure that the exchange's head had said. But Mr. Gay, in the country, has submitted a statement, which he did not say.

Among other things, Mr. Gay said, "I am not a bear, but a bull, and the exchange's head had said. But Mr. Gay, in the country, has submitted a statement, which he did not say."

"A stock can be a bull or a bear as it is still the dearest asset of the country. That statement is a statement, which he did not say."

Addressing a gathering of influential men, Mr. Gay said, "I am not a bear, but a bull, and the exchange's head had said. But Mr. Gay, in the country, has submitted a statement, which he did not say."

From various parts of the country, Mr. Gay said, "I am not a bear, but a bull, and the exchange's head had said. But Mr. Gay, in the country, has submitted a statement, which he did not say."

Stand With the Legion; Keep the Oath Law

THE FIGHT to retain the Massachusetts Teachers' Oath Law has in some quarters become a battle between the American Legion and those who apparently have little respect for the Legion and its purposes.

On one side we see State Legion Commander William P. Ryan of Holyoke, who tells us:

"The American Legion will fight to the finish to keep the Teachers' Oath Law on the statute books."

On the other side, Representative Jackson J. Holtz of Dorchester, who deserts his Boston Democratic colleagues to join the Back Bay Republican Christian A. Hetter, and Quincy Representative Charles W. Hedges, chief of the Landon-pledged slate of Massachusetts Republicans.

Declares Mr. Holtz, lovingly patted on the back by the press that has opposed the Child Labor Amendment and other anti-sweatshop legislation: "Remove from the statute books the law which has labelled us as cowards or d— fools."

Nice language, this, to use in dealing with the veterans who help Mr. Holtz, as well as other citizens, was mighty glad to have back in 1917.

And who are uncalled for along-in-the-face, to the legionnaires who once risked their lives to make America safe for democracy and now risk their reputations to keep it safe!

And, looking, they might well ask themselves these questions:

If the President of the United States, all Senators and Representatives, all Supreme Court justices and practically all public servants of any consequence take an allegiance oath, what real grounds can a teacher have for objecting to taking it?

When the Commander of the Legion opposes repeal and the Secretary of the Communist Party favors repeal, why should any legislator want to stand with the Secretary of the Communist Party?

After hundreds of Primary, Grammar and High School teachers have stated they have no objection to the oath, which they took once and will not have to take again, why should all teachers be presumed to be oath-haters?

And if the opposition to the oath is so powerful, why was Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who helped to put it on the statute books, sent to Washington by an overwhelming vote?

THERE are other questions, quite as important; but these should be sufficient to prove to every member of the House and Senate that his duty is WITH THE LEGION, not with Mr. Holtz and his newly-found associates.

200 Years of Progress

THE Boston Charitable Irish Society, now celebrating its 200th birthday anniversary, is one of the nation's foremost organizations.

Formed half a century before the Declaration of Independence, the Society has carried on its good work consistently and without interruption in all periods, in war, as in peace.

The mere enumeration of its charities, present and past, would require this whole newspaper; they deserve the recognition the country accords them.

It was fitting that the President of the United States should have made the Society's birthday dinner the occasion for a telephone address.

But, had Mr. Roosevelt been able to attend in person, as he or any other President would be, he would by no means have been the first President to do so.

President Andrew Jackson was the society's guest and speaker in 1833.

And President Taft came to Boston for the 175th anniversary banquet in 1912.

Today, with His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, of Boston and New England, joining in wishing for this great and glorious organization two centuries more of progress.

The Sales Tax Flood Control A Necessity

THE people generally will approve the legislative Committee on Taxation's unanimous opposition to the Massachusetts Sales Tax proposal.

With prices at the present level there cannot be any real excuse for making them higher.

This, the Sales Tax would most certainly do.

What is worse, it would bear most heavily on the low-salaried man with a family to support.

Thus, the defeat of the Sales Tax will be a victory for the people who can least afford to pay more for every thing they eat or wear.

The argument of some Sales Tax advocates that Massachusetts must have more revenue is not sound.

That Massachusetts can and should provide relief for all taxpayers by proper and reasonable economy.

FOUR days ago it would have been safe for a child to wade across parts of the Connecticut- and Merrimack rivers.

Today, after the heavy rain, it would take the strength of a strong man to swim those parts.

Four more days of rain and it would be unsafe for any man, however strong, to swim any part.

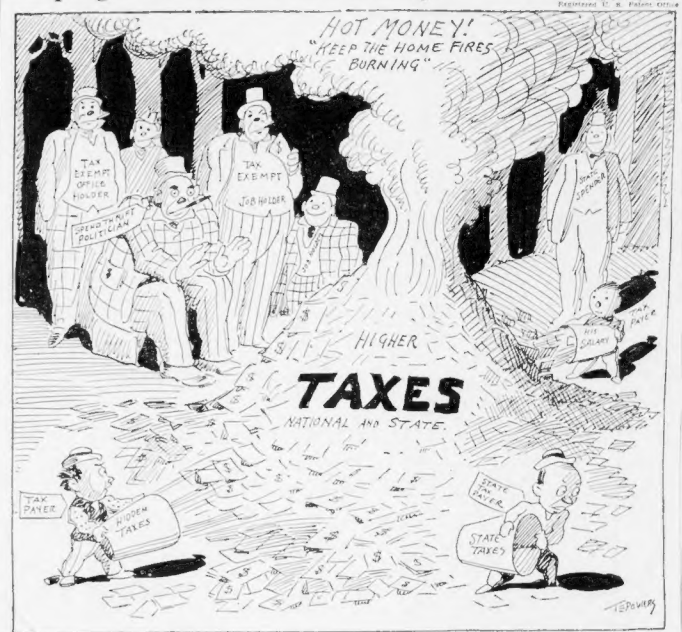

Here, definitely proved, is the best argument for flood control in New England.

The dams that have been proposed should be built, as soon as possible.

The four States that will benefit can afford to spend the $200,000 that will be required.

And the Federal Government's offer to contribute $10,000,000 is certainly attractive.
